Dear Mr Harman,

As you aware I am currently discussing the possibility of putting a client's child up for adoption. To that end, I wanted to enquire about the possibility of setting up a trust fund for said child, to be paid monthly in perpetuity, firstly to the child's adoptive parents and later to the child herself when she reaches her majority. Could we discuss the legalities of this? I can be reached by telephone at Queen Victoria Hospital on East Grinstead 474.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr Fitzwarren,

I have to confess that I don't understand at all. Where has this money come from? You tell me that you can't reveal the benefactor to me - but surely there's something more that you are allowed to say? Who would pay me a monthly sum for the rest of my life? I've asked my parents, and they claim to have no knowledge, but they must have known something, since from what you are saying they got the money until I turned eighteen.

Surely you can tell me something, rather than leave me with this mystery?

Yours,

Charlotte Foster
